

To ensure delivery to your inbox, please add fp-breakingnews@list.sourcemedia.com to your address book.

Home | Discussion | Feedback | Sign Up for the Newsletter

BREAKING NEWS

From the news desk of financial-planning.com

FINANCIAL PLANNING

Tighter Rules on 401(k) Fee Disclosure

New plan requires services, compensation and conflicts of interest to be disclosed in writing

By Stacy Schultz

December 12, 2007 - The U.S. Department of Labor released a new rule on the disclosure of 401(k) fees today set out to help fiduciaries get the information they need to determine the reasonableness of such fees. Under the new rule, all services furnished to a plan, and all compensation that is to be received by the service plan provider—both direct and indirect, must be disclosed in writing.

Read the whole article

©2007 Financial-Planning.com and SourceMedia. All rights reserved.

You are currently subscribed to Breaking News as: janedoe@planning.com.
To unsubscribe, please contact our Customer Service Department at the phone number or email address provided below.

SourceMedia
One State Street Plaza, 27th Floor New York, NY 10004
Phone: (800) 221-1809 Email: custserv@sourcemedia.com